
Brief Introduction to the Society

Taiwan Liver Cancer Association (TLCA)

The Taiwan Liver Cancer Association (TLCA) was officially founded in May 2008. The current president is Dr. Shi-Ming Lin. There are 507 members currently, including hepatologists, hepatobiliary surgeons, pathologists, radiologist, radiotherapist, hepato-oncologist and basic researchers of hepatology. Dr. Chung-Kwe Wang first established the Taiwan Liver Cancer Study Group in July 2000. After eight years of consistent meetings with all dedicated members, he found the necessity of founding the TLCA.

The missions of TLCA are to update the diagnosis, treatment and prevention of liver cancer, to interact the techniques and experience of management of HCC, to promote basic researches in hepatology, to communicate with internationally well known scholars and to host international symposium.

It is the honor of TLCA to join the TDDW 2022 and welcome all the members of GEST and TLCA to participate in this fruitful and productive convention.
